A SUMMER HOLIDAY CAMP

It is autumn now but the children still talk about their summer holidays.

Some of the children were in a holiday camp in the south of Bohemia. There were lots of boys and girls. All the boys and girls were good friends.

Everybody was happy in the camp. There were games, nice walks in the woods and there was bathing in the lake. There was always a lot of fun too.

One day there was a swimming contest. John was first. He can swim very well indeed. Peter was behind him, he was second. Tom was third. There was a contest for girls too. Eve was the best swimmer.

On the last night there was a campfire. It was dark and the fire was very bright in the middle of the camp. It was very nice to sit around the fire and sing.

All the boys and girls were very sorry when the camp was over.
